DETAILED ACTION

1. Please note that the examiner assigned to this application has changed.

2. Acknowledgement is made to applicants election of Group I and the further election of SEQ ID NO:59. Upon review and reconsideration, the Restriction and election requirement mailed August 25, 2003 is withdrawn. The following restriction requirement will apply.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-13, drawn to polypeptides having the ability to bind CEA comprising the Cys-X4-X5-X6-X7-X8-X9-X10-X11-Cys motif, classified in class 530, subclass 300.

II. Claims 14-23, drawn to methods of detecting CEA in a subject comprising the administration of a polypeptide of Group I conjugated to a radionuclide and methods of treating a CEA associated disease comprising the administration of the polypeptide of Group I conjugated to a therapeutic agent, classified in class 424, subclass 1.69 and 9.34 and class 514 subclass 13.

III. Claims 24-30, drawn to a recombinant bacteriophage expressing exogenous DNA encoding the CEA binding peptide of Group I, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.

4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Groups I and III are structurally and functionally different products which are made by different methods and have different uses. The examination of all groups would require different searches in the U.S. Patent Shoes and the scientific literature and would require the consideration of different patentability issues.

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP ' 806.05(h)). In the instant case the polypeptides of Group I can be used in a method of detecting CEA in vitro, in addition to being used in a method of raising an antibody..

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter and because the searches required for the groups are not co-extensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitation of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of M.P.E.P. 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitation of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 C.F.R. 1.312.

In the event of a rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 C.F.R. 1.104. thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet the criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. 103(b), 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or otherwise include the limitation of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See M.P.E.P. 804.01.

6. This application contains claims in Group II directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the administration of the CEA-binding polypeptides of Group I conjugated to a radioactive agent, a chemotherapeutic agent, a toxin or an enzyme.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (radionuclide, chemotherapeutic agent, toxin or enzyme) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 19 and 20 are generic. It is noted that the election of a radionuclide will result in the examination claims 14-21, and that the election of a chemotherapeutic agent will result in the examination of claims 19, 20 and 22.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Karen Canella whose telephone number is (703) 308 8362.
